

Guidelines for Faculty Reading Groups

1. Groups should consist of approximately 15 – 20 faculty and staff members. Students may be included as well, at the discretion of the facilitator.
2. There will be a limit of $50 per participant for book purchases.
3. The Frederick and Schaenen scholars will each lead at least one group per year.
4. The number of groups per semester should be limited to 4 – 6 (including the groups offered by the Frederick and Schaenen scholars).
5. The Frederick and Schaenen scholars may meet around dinner, since they have budgets of their own to draw on; other reading groups will normally offer light refreshments only.
6. Any faculty member may make a proposal to the staff of the Institute for a reading group on an ethics-related topic.
